Our 2022 highlights

The Burges Salmon healthcare team has worked with clients across the health and social care sector on some fascinating projects over the course of 2022, which have included:

Funding of vaccine programmes for children in "hard to reach" regions in Africa

Advising an international telemedicine provider on how to grow its business into the UK

Procuring cancer patient care from independent providers for a leading NHS Trust

Supporting a not-for-profit diagnostics provider in relation to CQC inspections

Helping independent and NHS providers manage data protection / information governance issues

Development of hospital services in the UAE

Supporting the NHS in relation to procurements worth >£1bn

Working with a public/private partnership to design framework agreements for use by NHS bodies

Sale of a national care home portfolio

Advising the sellers of a leading provider of mental healthcare services

Arrangements for private provision of ophthalmology services to NHS patients

Investment into a Scandinavian-owned telehealth business

Working with a local charity providing end of life care

Advising an independent provider on the purchase of and transition to a new electronic patient record platform
